TESTIMONIAL FOR ADDISON JAMES EASTWAY

To Whom It May Concern

Addison has been a student of Newington since commencing in 2016 in Year 7. He graduated from Year 12 in 2021. In that time, he has shown himself to be an outstanding academic. His awards include PR Le Couteur Prize for Scholarship, Sports and Citizenship (2019), Proxime Accessit (2019), the Holiday Prize for Divinity (2019), Academic Colours (2019), Outstanding Academic Achievement in the International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme in (2020). Addison has sustained high academic achievement throughout his school career and has shown an organised and thorough approach to his studies.

Newington College offers an array of co-curricular opportunities, and Addison has tried many. In the sporting arena, he participated in football, cricket, and golf, displaying great endeavour and commitment. He was the number one ranked player in the competition golf team in 2021. He has been heavily involved in the school's Music program as part of the Symphonic Winds, Wind Orchestra, Stage Band, Rock Band and College Choir, earning Music Colours for his contributions. He participated in the College Musicals in 2016, 2018 and 2020. The wealth of his involvements and subsequent accomplishments are listed in the school participation transcript and serves as a testament to Addison's diverse range of interests and the flexibility of character and outstanding organisation required to maintain such high standards in a broad range of areas.

In his final year, Addison also gained Honour Colours in recognition of his commitment to the College's activities over several years. His contribution to the Outdoor Education Program was rewarded, with Addison being appointed Newington Challenge Captain. His duties included attendance at all annual camps, fulfilling leadership courses and training younger students in a variety of skills.

Addison has always modelled self-respect, excellent communication, and outstanding leadership, typified by his selection into the Year 11 Peer Support program and his appointment as vice-captain of Moulton House. His primary role was to work with the House Captain to prepare duty rosters for a team of over 30 House Prefects, supervise the performance of their duties, prepare a written evaluation of their performance, and liaise with members of the teaching staff. He fulfilled his responsibilities exceptionally well, setting the highest standards of personal conduct, dress and involvement in school activities, and consistently demonstrated empathy and care for students of all ages. Furthermore, his strength of character, willingness to confront difficult situations and find solutions were essential traits exhibited. His service to the school community was much appreciated.

Addison is a truly exceptional young man for whom I have the utmost regard. He has remarkably intrinsic flexibility, organisation and proficiency with prioritising commitments that have been invaluable in ensuring he makes the most of and achieves the best results in whatever he pursues. His maturity, care and thoughtfulness set him apart, and he was well respected by staff and students. He has an inquiring mind and a thirst for continual self-improvement that will ensure he thrives in whatever endeavours he pursues as he leaves Newington. He has our highest recommendation.

To Whom It May Concern,

Reference: Addison Eastway

I have known Addison Eastway for the past two years since he commenced working in our business. His availability to work has been subject to his university commitments and he is an extremely reliable and dedicated worker. Over the recent summer period we have been fortunate to have Addison working at an almost full-time capacity as a warehouse assistant and delivery driver.

Addison is a quick learner, organised and punctual. He demonstrates common sense, is a team player and is very amiable with work colleagues and customers. He is and will be an asset to any organisation and I recommend him highly for any position he applies for.

I would be pleased to provide further information on Addison's employment and can be contacted on 0407 402038.

Yours sincerely,
